

A Great and Wonderfull
VICTORY OBTAINED BY THE DANES against the SVVEADES, in the Island of FEWNEN at Nenborgh the 26. of No- vember last 1659.

Being the Coppies of two Letters, one from Lubeck, the other from Hamborough: Translated by J. D. the 8. of this present December.

LONDON,
Printed by T. M. for Liv. and Chipman at the Crown in Popes-head Alley, 1659.

The Victory of the Danes against the Swedes in the Island of Fennem, by a Coppy of a Letter from Lubeck Dated the first of December, 1659

AT this instant, we have advice by way of that the Kingly Danish Army, under the General Schack, joyned with the Troops of the Commander Eberstejn, Poles and Hollers
Militia, strong in all nine or ten thousand men, Horse and Foot, upon the Island Fennem, were in a full march together to the City Nordborg in the said Island, with some Field piece: and drawing near the said City, seeing the Swedish Forces (about three or foure thousand men)

A 2

standing

(4)

standing in full Baralia, under the command of the Cannon of the said City; forced in notwithstanding upon the Sweedes; and after a hard Skirmish, the Sweedes retreated into the City, and sought an Agreement: In the mean time, the Cannons out of the Ships, under Command of the Admiral de Ruyter, shot incessantly, so that the City was fired in foure places; the Sweedes seeing this, resolved to give themselves over to mercy, and there were above three thousand men besides their Commanders taken Prisoners and all their baggage, the Souldiers Horse and Foot, to be divided amongst other Regiments and companies, and the Officers to be kept prisoners.

Another

Another from Hamborough the second of December by way of Lubeck.

VVE have here certaine news from Hamborough, how the Kingly Danish and Sweedish Armies on the twenty sixth of November last, a mile from Hamborough, had a Battel; and after a hard fight of three houres, the Sweeds fled, and those which were not slain, retreated into Nemborough: The Sweeds presently thereupon sent a Trumpeter, to General Schack to agree, but it was refused them, so they gave themselves prisoners to their mercy, the Fight was very furious, and the right Wing of the Danes was put to flight, which were brought on by General Eberstein, but they were seconded by a reserve of the General Schack: and fell on again very hard and behaved themselves very manfully. The Sweeds had also received seven or eight hundred men out of Zealand, so that their Army was six thousand men strong horse and foot: of which we do not know that one is escaped. The Palgrave of Sulzbach was taken Prisoner two dayes after the fight, in womens appattel, also all the Sweeds Cannon, baggage, Booty and Officers and their Wives, amongst whom is the Lady of the General which are fallen into the hands of the Danes. In conclusion, this is so great a Victory for the Danish, as they never had before: The Letters from Copenhagen of the twenty sixth of this instant, relate, that they sailed out and slew and took prisoners, about one hundred and fifty Sweds, daily here came many of the Sweds Souldiers into the City to the Danes. The Sweds (as is related) as soon as they heard that the whole Island of Skonen and their forces there was fallen into the hands of the Danes did fire their quarters, and retired to Kroonenburgh.

(45)

The

The same already known are, Major General Sotter, and five or six Commanders more, whose names are not yet known: about 1500 Foot Souldiers, and one thousand Horsemen.

The Prisoners are these: Lieutenant General Horner, Major Gen. Earle, Major Gen. Weyer: his Excellency Prince of Wales Commander Engel, Earle of ... Commander, Commander Compton, were seen in his Army, and many more Commanders, besides many other chief Officers, whose names for brevities sake are not mentioned. We have also taken about Three thousand Horses, and 60 Standards, 20 great Ladies, 21 pieces of Ordnance, besides the 37 pieces we took at the Battle of ..., with all their Baggage and Womens Jewels and Ornaments, with 28 Foot Colours, with all their Officers, and 12 Colours of Dragoon, besides 4700 private Souldiers prisoners.

On our sides are slain the Commander Both and Lieutenant Colonel John Brande Rantzen of ...